A Message from the Head

I hope you all had a good Bank Holiday weekend.

I can't believe it's May already. For the past two years we have supported "No Mow May" and we urge you to do the same. No matter how small your patch of grass, the wildflowers that grow amongst it are a vital source of food and pollen for our insects. I'm sure a very special centenarian would agree! Happy 100th birthday to David Attenborough. He features in this week's Picture News on page 2.

Next week, is Deaf Awareness week. Since the beginning of this year, we have been actively using Makaton in school and Mr Radcliffe teaches us a new sign every morning.

Have a lovely weekend.

Why do some people become so important to the world?

In the news this week

Sir David Attenborough, a famous naturalist and broadcaster, is celebrating his 100th birthday. For over 70 years, he has created and presented programmes that help people understand animals, nature, and the planet. His work has inspired millions of people to learn more about the world and take care of it. Many people are celebrating his life and the difference he has made.

Things to talk about at home ...

- > Who is someone you think is important? Why are they important?
- > What has David Attenborough done to help people understand the world?
- > How can we learn about places and animals we can't see ourselves?
- > Do you think you have to be famous to make a difference? Why?
- > Can you share something you care about and would like others to care about too?
